THROAT, LUNGS,

EYE AND EAR.

PROVIDENCE, April 15, 1861.

I have been troubled for several months with a severe cough, pain and soreness in the chest, the symptoms of Chronic Bronchitis, for which I used all the usual remedys without avail: my disease continued to increase until it affected my throat and nose, producing in connection, a Chronic Sore Throat and Catarrh. In fact I became so bad that my friends and myself were fearful that I had a settled disease of the lungs. In this state four weeks ago, I placed myself under the care of Dr. Daniels, of No. 8 Dorrance street. Upon his first application of medicine my catarrh disappeared as by magic, and in a week my throat was like a new one: my cough and other symptoms have gradually subsided, and give me at the present time little or no inconvenience. Such is the benefit that I have received at his hands, that I take great pleasure in recommending him to those suffering from diseases of the throat and lungs.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.

The Herald has the following:

ON BATTLE FIELD NEAR SHARPSBURG, Friday, Sept. 19, noon.

The victory is complete and splendid. Our troops deserve well of their country.

There has been no battle to-day.

The rebels are in full flight.

McClellan is in pursuit of them.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.

A correspondent says: Gen. Sumner's undaunted courage carried a division of Sedgewick's into the enemy's lines, where they fought superior numbers successfully for an hour, though at times their situation was critical indeed. Nothing but the most daring and determined courage saved this noble body of men from annihilation.

The rebels here made a bold push to capture the 1st Rhode Island and Kirby's (formerly Rickett's) battery, against which they have their old grade of Fair Oaks and Savage Station to settle yet. Rickett's light brass 12-pounder battery poured grape and canister with destructive effect among them, and with the aid of its support of infantry from the 15th Massachusetts, effectually checked the enemy's advance in the direction of the batteries.

The fire of the combined infantry and artillery literally mowed down the rebels, who by this time rallied their forces and received assistance. Nobly did this regiment sustain against the increased and increasing numbers of rebels, bringing down scores of rebels at every discharge. They were finally obliged to fall back to the original line, which they did in good order, fighting meantime under Kirby's well-directed fire.

The 15th Massachusetts went into action with 600 men and came out with 200 uninjured. The rest were killed, wounded and missing.

The 1st Rhode Island battery was well served, and supported by the 34th New York and the Baxter Zouaves, finally drove off the rebels.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.

The Frederick correspondence of the Herald dated the 18th, says yesterday reinforcements of Pennsylvania troops marched through the city, on their way to the scene of conflict.

The same correspondent on the 19th, says a cornfield which was commanded by one of our batteries, was alternately taken and vanquished by Gen. Patrick's brigade. The battery was so placed as to flay upon the flanks of any force occupying this cornfield.

The brigade would advance and drive the rebels out of the position and would then receive orders to retire. The rebels would then rush in and re-occupy it, when the battery would open upon them and mow them down. The brigade would then be ordered forward again to finish the work.

This was repeated several times during the contest. Five stands of rebel colors were taken by the brigade. The enemy raised the American flag at this point in order to stop our fire, but the ruse was unsuccessful. Many officers concur in stating the fact that the American flag was displayed at different points.

During the battle the 4th Rhode Island regiment was badly cut up, losing all but about 200 of its men. Nearly all its field and line officers are killed, wounded or missing.

Lieut. Col. Curtis, and Capt. Buffum, of this regiment, when it was withdrawn, took muskets from the dead and went in with the 51st Pennsylvania, and fought it out, escaping unhurt.

Gen. Hooker's wound is not so bad as it was at first supposed. The bones of his foot are uninjured, and he will soon be able to rejoin his command.

The Herald's correspondence also has the following gratifying paragraph:

Jackson relieved Longstreet in the latter part of the day, and is believed to have been killed. During the engagement a shout went along the entire line that Jackson was killed.

A number of prisoners taken from different parts of the field say he was missing, and supposed he was lying dead inside of our lines.

A rebel chaplain, captured late in the action, makes the same statement, and assured our officers that Jackson had been missing for some time. Nothing has been said officially in regard to his death, but as there was nothing to distinguish him as a General, he probably lies on the field unrecognized.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.

A special correspondent of a morning paper has the following: A chaplain of the rebel army taken prisoner in Gibbon's brigade, told Lieut. Sexton, of the 19th Wisconsin Regiment, that Stonewall Jackson was certainly dead. He declared he had himself seen him brought off the field.

A telegram was seen at Frederick from a surgeon at Harper's Ferry, asking another surgeon to send some medical supplies to that place. If this fact may be relied upon, and it is certified by Gen. Hartsuff's aid as of his own knowledge, Harper's Ferry is ours. Such also is the general opinion in our army at Sharpsburg.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.

The Herald's Washington despatch states that the rebels on Thursday night destroyed the new bridge at Harper's Ferry, and everything else at the Ferry and along the road to Martinsburg, including the Pillar bridge.

Friday morning there was only a small force of rebels on Bolivar Heights, and one company at Sandy Hook.

A Washington despatch says, to-night we have officially no additional news of the retreat of the rebel army, but learn however that Gen. McClellan succeeded in attacking the enemy's rear, capturing an immense number of prisoners and artillery, and killing and wounding an equally large number.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.

A Washington despatch to the Times states that a cavalry reconnoisance made from Gen. Heintzelman's Headquarters, yesterday morning, accomplished one of the most rapid and brilliant achievements of the campaign. They went within three miles of Thoroughfare Gap, performing the distance of 80 miles in twenty hours.

Near Thoroughfare Gap they discovered a force of rebels acting as a body guard to Gen. Ewell who was in an ambulance, very badly wounded, and being escorted to Richmond. Three of his body guard were captured, also about 30 more prisoners, several of whom were officers, and some wagons. This report was sent in by Gen. Biney.

Washington, Sept. 19.—A brilliant cavalry reconnoissance was made yesterday from Gen. Heintzelman's corps, to Thoroughfare Gap, during which three of the rebel Gen. Ewell's staff were captured. The General was being removed in an ambulance to Richmond, and was got off by his guard.

John H. Blodgett and Charles A. Manson of the Dartmouth College company of the Rhode Island Cavalry, have returned from imprisonment at Richmond.

Announcement is to be made that the Indian rebellion will make the overland route unsafe for emigrants.

Brig. Gen. Cassius M. Clay's appointment to New Orleans has been revoked, and he is waiting orders.

CONCERNING HARPER'S FERRY.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.

The Press publishes a special, dated Middletown, 18th, giving particulars of the reoccupation of Harper's Ferry by Burnside's corps. The rebels retreated, leaving behind cannon and stores, and several hundred of Miles' men, not paroled. The federals crossed the bridges which were uninjured, and pursued the rebels as far as Martinsburg.

Newport.

WAR MEETINGS.—Meetings of this description in Newport have never been remarkable for the degree of military enthusiasm they have created or the stimulation of enlistments, though they have not altogether been without good results. One great reason of this failure has doubtless been, that while all the speakers have said "go" to the war, there have been none to say come. Let one man of influence and standing in the community walk up in public meeting, place his name upon the enlistment roll, and call for volunteers to go with him, and the response would doubtless be surprising as well as gratifying.

POLICE COURT.—Samuel T. Oman has been arrested for the larceny of the hens recently stolen from Mr. Hosea Lewis on the Lime Rocks. His examination took place in the Police Court yesterday afternoon.

East Greenwich.

MUSICAL.—As we sat, last evening, enjoying the rich treat afforded us by the Sacred Concert, under the charge of Prof. Tourjee, in the Methodist Episcopal Church, we were forcibly impressed with what musical advantages, when they are of a high order, will do for a community. Since Prof. Tourjee took charge of the musical department of the Providence Conference Seminary, he has awakened an interest which has resulted in supplying the Institution with a splendid organ, and establishing a graduating course in Music, ranking among the first in the country. Its effect has been to improve and elevate the musical taste of all under its influence. One of its effects has been shown by placing in the Methodist Church the organ which is an honor to the Society.

We would render a tribute of gratitude to those who have rendered such a benefit to the whole community.

G. HOLDEN, Battery C, has died in hospital at Washington.

CAMP STEVENS.—There were 520 men of the Eleventh Regiment in camp this noon. The number will probably be increased to six or seven hundred before night. Arrangements are now complete to accommodate 2500 men on the ground.

GEN. HALLECK issues the following orders from the headquarters of the army:

Major General Foster, commanding the Department of North Carolina, has called attention to an article in the New York Evening Post, of Sept. 14, in which is published the numbers and position of his troops. He remarks that the New York papers always reach the enemy a few days after publication, and that such information from our friends is more injurious than that gained by the rebel spies. The newspaper press is earnestly requested to make no publication in regard to the numbers and movements of our troops. No information could be more desirable to the enemy than this. Such publications have done immense injury to our cause.

FLEET FIRED INTO ON THE MISSISSIPPI.—The fleet carrying the rebel prisoners to Vicksburg was fired into at Prentice, opposite Napoleon, Arkansas. Several balls passed through the latan, killing a number of the rebel prisoners. None of our men were hurt. The crew of the gunboat landed and gave the inhabitants fifteen minutes to remove the women and children, at the end of which time, the town was burned.

SAD COINCIDENCE.—It is with much regret that we notice the death at Baden-Baden, Germany, of Mr. John Borie Bohlen, of this city, son of the late Gen. Bohlen. Both father and son died upon the same day, the one in battle, the otner in a foreign land.—Phil. Press.
